

It was Indeed a Very Solemn Affair

TWENTY-FOUR OF OUR LEADING NARBERTH CITIZENS FACE SQUIRE FRITSCH FOR ALLEGED VIOLATION OF THE STATE AUTOMOBILE LAW—BUT HE PROVED TO BE A MERCIFUL JUDGE.

Once we were in a court room when the jury in a murder case returned with the verdict, and the Judge said: "Prisoner, look upon the Jury—Jury, look upon the prisoner!" And that was a very solemn occasion.

Once we went through the marriage ceremony, and, for a few minutes, that was a very solemn occasion, too.

Also, we have seen two members of the Narberth Tennis Association who are engineers, play a strictly scientific game of tennis, and that likewise was a solemn occasion.

But never have we seen anything that for downright solemnity and sobriety equaled a scene in our Narberth Council Chamber last Wednesday evening, when twenty-four of our leading and most respectable citizens faced Justice of the Peace Fritsch in answer to warrants—called "summons"—in police society—charging them with violating the State Automobile Law, by neglecting to keep two white lights burning on the front of their cars and one red light in the rear, whenever the cars are parked in the public highways one hour after sunset and one hour before sunrise.

But They Were All Lighted This Time.

We really had no intention of being a witness of this solemn affair, for in years gone by we have spent a great deal of time in police courts—in a purely professional capacity, of course, and there are some sordid scenes and recollections in life that one naturally likes to outlive. But we happened to be passing Elm Hall Wednesday night, shortly before 8 o'clock, and observed the largest assemblage of automobiles in front of the Hall that we have ever noted, even on the biggest dance nights. Moreover, every single car had all kinds of lights burning, both in front and in the rear.

At first it occurred to us that maybe Chief Noel was holding a convocation of all the Fire Chiefs this side of Harrisburg. So in we went. It was then that the discovery was made.

In the Council Chamber we saw Squire Fritsch sitting at the head of the big table, looking as severe and solemn as at least three Justices of the Supreme Court. Spread before him were voluminous papers. At his right sat Acting Burgess Hall and Borough Solicitor Stites. A little further around to the right sat Officer Nevins, ranging in a sort of "right angle semi-circle" around the room, sat the twenty-four citizens of Narberth charged with violating the automobile law.

"Ain't It Funny What a Difference Just a Few Hours Make."

We learned later from inquiries, that there had been rumors prior to Wednesday evening that several of these citizens were going to declare themselves rather frankly at the hearing with respect to the law and the "summons" that had been issued for their appearance.

But after Acting Burgess Hall, speaking in a most awe-inspiring and sepulchral tone had explained that the promiscuous violating of the State law had made it necessary for the Borough to take some decided action, and Officer

Tennis Dinner Dance
Next Friday Evening

BIG PARTY TO START PROMPTLY AT 7 O'CLOCK—PRESENTATION OF PRIZES WON IN TOURNAMENT—DANCE TO FOLLOW.

Members of the Narberth Tennis Association and their wives and friends are looking forward to a big party next Friday evening, November 19, when the annual Dinner-Dance and Presentation of Prizes will be held in Elm Hall.

The dinner starts at 7 o'clock and we have reason to believe that in strict keeping with the time honored custom "the table will groan under the weight of the good things set before the guests."

The presentation of the prizes won in the 1920 Tournament will follow the dinner. Then will come the dance.

These dinner-dances have always been very popular and members of the Association are looking forward to an unusually good time next Friday evening. Members are urged to bear in mind that the dinner is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock and to be on hand promptly at that hour.

Main Line Night
at 'Mum Show

"Main Line Night" was observed at the Chrysanthemum Show, in honor of the flower lovers of Montgomery County, on Tuesday evening in the First Regiment Armory, Broad and Calowhill streets, Philadelphia, where the ninety-first annual Chrysanthemum Show of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society was held from Tuesday until Friday night.

The Main Line was thus honored because of the widespread interest in this section among horticulturists, as is evidenced by the frequent flower shows in Narberth, Bryn Mawr, Haverford and Ardmore. Many of the exhibitors at these smaller shows entered 'mums, roses and foliage plants in the 'Mum Show.

Mrs. Horatio Gates Lloyd, of Haverford, and Mrs. William T. Elliott and Mrs. C. F. C. Stout, of Ardmore, were members of the Exhibition Committee. They are the first women who ever occupied places on this important committee.

Tenth Anniversary
Reception

In celebration of the tenth anniversary of the present pastorate, the officers and members of the Presbyterian Church will give an informal reception to the Rev. and Mrs. John Van Ness next Wednesday evening. The elders and their wives will assist in receiving, while the deacons of the church will have charge of the ushering.

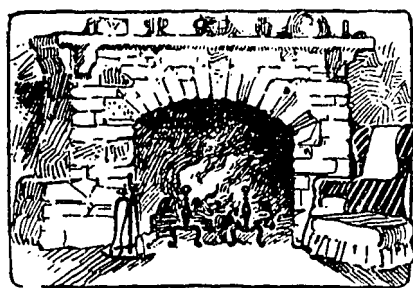

The reception will be held in the Sunday School portion of the church, which now includes the new extension which has just been added to the Sunday School side of the building.

Elaborate preparations for the occasion are being made by the women's organizations. Cut flowers from the gardens of the members, potted plants and autumn foliage will be used in abundance in the decorations. The church proper will be separated from the rest of the building by potted plants and cut flowers, while the orchestra will be concealed in palms and ferns provided by the members.

Following the reception the ladies of the church will serve a buffet luncheon, and appropriate musical selections by the orchestra. Recitations and readings will also be given by "home talent." In general, an evening of entertainment and social intercourse will be provided for the members of the church and the congregation.

Methodist Choir Again
in Full Swing

The Methodist Church has been again fortunate in securing Prof. C. C. Nee as its musical director, and the choir is planning some interesting concerts and services. It is expected that this chorus of about 25 voices will render the music at the Thanksgiving service to be held in the Methodist Church this year, under Prof. Nee's direction. The choir sang several splendid anthems last Sunday evening, and conducted an old-time spirited song service before the regular service. It is understood that there is now a waiting list of interested singers, who will not be able to join the choir until larger accommodations are provided.

In answer to an ad for laborers by a local firm, there were nearly a hundred men came to Narberth on the trains Saturday morning. As only eight men could be given a job, the others were much disappointed. Incidentally it was some job to select eight from that bunch, as each one seemed to feel that he should be engaged.

At a postponed hearing before the Public Service Commission in Philadelphia on last Friday Pat Donahue was required to present evidence showing his right to receive a permit from the Commission to conduct a hauling or jitney business at Narberth. At the hearing Sabie Censore, who also conducts a jitney business at Narberth, made a protest to the Commissioner against the granting of a permit to "Pat." It was brought out by testimony of witnesses that "Pat" had been driving a hack for twenty-three years in Narberth, that he had a family of six children, four going to school, and that he had the confidence of the people generally, though the Council on the opposing side sought to prove that he was not a fit person to conduct such a business. The Commission is expected to pass on the application in a week or ten days.

Young Couple Married
Twice in One Week

A beautiful wedding ceremony was held in the Methodist Church on Friday, October 29, and re-celebrated on November 5 for the reason that the couple are so popular and well known that all their friends could not be accommodated at the first marriage. The church was crowded to the doors, with people clamoring outside, and the bridal party included about fifteen intimate friends of the bride and groom, eight flower girls, maid of honor, best man, six stunning bridesmaids dressed in a gorgeous array of rainbow colors, and six immaculate and well-trained ushers. The church was magnificently decorated with palms, large cryptogamous plants, dahlias, and the bridal path was completely strewn by the dainty little flower girls with rose petals.

The bride was Katherine Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, of Narberth, dressed in a white lace dress with a real lace cap and veil, while the happy groom was George Hansel. The bride was given away by Esther Clegg (mother), dressed in a gray gown with white hair piled high, and George Knapp (father). The minister who so well officiated at this ceremony was Rev. John Thornley, and the stunning little maid of honor was Miss Betty Hartley, gowned in a pink satin creation, with a long pointed train and pink fluffy tulle poke bonnet, and carrying a large bunch of pink dahlias. The best man was Alfred Rantsch, who produced the ring just at the right psychological moment, and the little ring-bearer was a mite of just two feet. Master Elmer Lane, aged three, then there were Marjory Hoffman, Elizabeth Smedley, Lois Abbott, Dorothy Meyers, Anne Chalfant, Betty Smith and Dora Miller as adorable little flower girls. The bridesmaids—Florence Mohr, Cora Messie, Evelyn Hansel, Ernestine Walls, Arla Maltby, and Beulah Chalfant—were a group rarely exhibited around this part of the country. The guests of the wedding were well taken care of by the ushers, Messrs. Jack Irwin, Wilbur Messie, William Weimer, Robert Bailey, Eugene Lane, Wm. Bailey. Two solos were beautifully rendered by Miss Marian Henry (announced as Mrs. Hoffman), with organ accompaniment. The members and trustees of the Methodist Church of long standing were announced as they entered—Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Krenner (impersonated by Dorothy Thornley and James Bailey), Mr. and Mrs. Chalfant (impersonated by Julia Robeson and Harry Hetrick), Mr. and Mrs. Scott (by Margaret Yowell and James Hillier), Mr. and Mrs. George M. Davis (by Helen Cuthbert and Henry Brooks), Mr. and Mrs. Freley (by Helen Hansel and Billy Dorsey), Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Bailey (by Kathryn Robeson and Charles Snaper). Another little renowned guest was Miss Miriam Sharp, well up in Narberth society.

In consideration of the fact that all the above procedure was produced by little tots, aging from three years to about fourteen years, an interested on-looker could not but think that some real, real weddings could do well to come up to this standard of a ceremony, which was labeled "TOM THUMB'S WEDDING." The credit for this extraordinary entertainment is due to Mrs. Walker Owens, well known by Narberth as a very competent director of plays and entertainments. Also credit is due to Mrs. Owen's helpers, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Clegg, Mrs. Thornley, Mr. Thornley, Mrs. Abbott and Mrs. Weimer. This entertainment, which had to be given on two occasions due to its popularity and the turning away of hundreds of people at the first performance, was really one of the best ever given in Narberth.

CARD PARTY.

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion of Narberth will give a Card Party on November 17 at 2 o'clock at the General Wayne Inn for the benefit of the Flag Committee. Tickets, 50 cents.

The next meeting of the Auxiliary will be held at the Legion Building on the second Monday in December at 8 o'clock. Election of new officers for the coming year will then take place.

November Council Meeting

The Borough Council held its regular monthly meeting on Monday, November 8, with all members present: Messrs. Hall (President), Brown, Henderson, Leitch, Metzger, Redifer and Wentz. The Secretary, Mr. Noel, and the Borough Treasurer, Mr. Dold, were also present.

Most of the work before the Council was of a more or less routine nature, but some things of general interest came up. Among these were the following:

The Council received a letter from the Burgess announcing the appointment of Mr. J. J. Cabrey as chairman of the Shade Tree Commission, succeeding Mrs. Norman Jeffries, who had resigned. The other two members of this Commission are Mr. A. E. Wohler and Mr. John Alker.

The Committee on Highways and Sewers, Mr. Wentz, Chairman, reported on several matters of interest. The resurfacing of Woodbine Avenue has been completed and the installation of the sewer extension on Sabine Avenue is well advanced. One hundred and twenty-five new street signs will be secured and placed at all street intersections in the Borough. Six signs, containing the words "To Narberth," with an arrow pointing the way, will be suitably located on all road approaches to the Borough. All of these signs will be enamelled on both sides, an improvement over the present signs, which will greatly increase their resistance to rust and consequent breaking.

The Committee on Police and Health, Mr. Metzger, Chairman, reported that two officers had been secured from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to assist the Borough police officer, Mr. Nevins, in the policing of the Borough on Saturday and Monday over Halloween. The Committee also reported that the man who had stolen a number of dahlias from one of the leading growers in the Borough had been apprehended and would be tried at Ardmore that night. It was subsequently learned that he had been fined and placed under bond to keep the peace for a year. The Committee is also vigorously enforcing the State Automobile Act prohibiting the parking of automobiles at night without lights. The license numbers of twenty-four offenders of this act were secured and the cases came up for trial before the Justice of the Peace on November 10. The Committee closed its report with the recommendation, which was approved by Council, that a suitable uniform be purchased for the Borough police officer.

Three resolutions were introduced and adopted by the Council. One provides for the installation of a fire hydrant at the corner of Dudley and Stewart avenues, which will afford fire protection to the houses on the east side of Narbrook Park; the second provides for the transfer of certain miscellaneous accounts, relating to sewer construction, sewer maintenance and road improvements, to the general funds of the Borough; and the third authorizes the Borough Treasurer to borrow $3,700 against taxes in process of collection, to defray current expenses.

The next regular meeting of the Council will be held on December 13. At this meeting the budget ordinances for 1921 will come up for the first and second readings. This meeting, one of the most important in the year, should be of interest to all residents of the Borough and the Council would be glad to have any who are interested attend the meeting.

THE STATE POLICE.

The Pennsylvania State Police recovered stolen property worth $225,959 and restored it to owners during the first nine months of this year, according to figures announced recently by Major Lynn G. Adams, the superintendent. Included in that sum were automobiles valued at $89,770.

From January to October 1 the State troopers arrested 6,202 persons for various offenses. Of that number, 1,619 were charged with violations of the State's automobile laws, 58 were accused of murder and 19 of arson. The other arrests were for larceny and miscellaneous crimes.

Editorial

We are in receipt of the following letter, under date of November 5th, from the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia, located on Logan Square, Philadelphia:

To the Editor of Our Town.
We are enclosing herewith a copy of a circular letter which we are sending to the principals of public schools in Philadelphia and communities in the surrounding territory. In endeavoring to further the work of the Academy in the way of public education in the natural sciences, we have found, in common with institutions in other centers, our efforts most productive when directed toward the children. For this reason we are endeavoring to reach them directly through the school channels and also through the agencies of the public press. Might we ask that you give some notice of these lecture courses in your columns.

The lectures are to be elementary ones, on birds, insects, mollusks and plants of our vicinity, and are to be delivered by members of the Academy staff in our lecture hall. Admission is, of course, absolutely free and anyone interested is most cordially invited.

Thanking you for any courtesy you may be able to grant us in our work,

Very truly yours,

JAMES A. G. REHN,
Secretary, Committee on Instruction.

The Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia.

We desire to call your attention to the facilities offered by our institution for interesting and instructing children in natural history, which is one of the most important studies for developing the powers of observation.

Our Museum is open free on week-days (except legal holidays) from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M., and on Sundays from 1 to 5 P. M. Collections of animals, birds, minerals, insects, Indian implements, etc., are to be seen and we welcome teachers who will bring classes or schools to visit the institution.

THE ABSCONDER

I have known men who have an income of $3,000, $4,000, or $5,000 a year who did not leave one farthing to the surviving household. Now such a man's death is a defalcation, an outrage, a swindle. He did not die, he absconded.

Furthermore, popular lectures on various branches of local natural history, illustrated with colored lantern slides, will be given this winter on Friday afternoons from January 7th to March 25th, 1921, at 3:30 o'clock, for the benefit of visiting schools. Can you not arrange to bring some of your classes to one or more of these lectures? If so, kindly communicate with the undersigned, before December 15th, as to your choice of dates and approximate number of scholars, so that arrangements may be made for your accommodation. If no reservation is made, visiting schools must take their chance in obtaining seats.

T. LEAMING SMITH BUYS RESIDENCE.

A brick Colonial residence and garage on Wynnewood Road, Narberth, with about one acre of ground, has been sold by A. D. Warnock for Edward Pearson Flannery to T. Leaming Smith, who will occupy it. The property was held for sale at $25,000.

WOMEN'S COMMUNITY CLUB

The evening meeting which was held to form a Junior Chapter to the Woman's Community Club on Tuesday was attended by several representatives of Narberth's neighboring junior clubs. Oak Lane, Lansdowne, Cynwyd and Ardmore all gave such glowing reports of their very active clubs that it could not but give our girls confidence to undertake the same line of town activities. Not only did these young neighbors come to the Narberth Club to explain the workings of their clubs, but also provided the evening's entertainment by readings, solos and instrumental music. Needless to say, the Narberth girls rallied to form a chapter of their own at the close of the meeting. The hostesses served a refreshing fruit punch, after which the girls had a dance and returned to their homes.

At the next meeting of the Club, November 23, in the afternoon, there will be a table for the members to bring the articles for sale for the Building Fund. Many of the women who are earning $10 will find this a very easy way to dispose of their goods. This table or trading post will be in evidence at the meetings until Christmas.

Do not forget to save for the rummage sale, which will take place during the first of December. The Committee will call for them if you will call Narberth 370-J.

On November 23 the annual dues will be payable. It is requested that the members make payment at this meeting and so save both the treasurer and the member time and trouble.

Children's Dancing Class to open Saturday, November 20, at 2 P. M., in the Community Room.

The formation of a Dancing Class in Narberth will apparently, judging from the response, fill a much-needed want. The services of Miss Frances H. Newcomb have been procured to conduct this class. Miss Newcomb has taught for several years in the Philadelphia Recreation Centre, also in a private school in Germantown, and was a pupil for several years of one of the well-known dancing professors of Philadelphia. Parents are requested to come at 1:30 P. M. to enroll their children. Terms cash in advance. Further information may be obtained by phoning Narberth 1638-M.

Adult Dancing Class will open Friday evening, November 26, 8 P. M.

As there has been a number of requests for an adult dancing class, arrangements have been completed, and the class will open on the above date.

Beginners will be given special instruction from 8 P. M. to 9 P. M. Those of advanced experience from 9 P. M. to 10 P. M. All members are, however, welcome to come at the hour of eight if they so desire.

The class will meet on the alternate Fridays. Special features on certain evenings. The dates are as follows: November 26, December 10, December 24, Masquerade; January 7, January 21, Dance; February 4, February 18, Dance; March 4, March 18, April 1, Dance. Kindly bear these dates in mind. Terms, cash in advance. For further particulars phone Narberth 1638-M.

Millinery Class to Be Formed.

The Y. M. C. A. of Ardmore will, through the co-operation of the Woman's Community Club, extend its "New Idea" millinery course to Narberth. These classes shall be operated under regular association supervision; conditions of enrollment being membership in the association plus payment of the fixed rate of tuition for the course, which tuition for the session of 1920-1921 shall be $5.00 for a term of six lessons, and $8.00 for a term of twelve lessons.

Materials may be purchased of the instructor, Madam Thasin, or you may bring your own materials. All payments of membership contributions and tuition fees shall be made to the association, for which receipts will be given.

The first term will begin Thursday, November 18, 1920, from 10 A. M. to 12 A. M. Meeting place will be announced later.

This class is to assist women and girls who wish to design and make their own millinery. The instruction will be given by an expert French designer, who has been connected with some of the most exclusive importers in New York. Among the advantages to be derived from the classes in millinery are:

(a.) Ability to make very chic and becoming hats.

(b.) Satisfaction of having something different.

(c.) How to make ten hats for what you would ordinarily pay for three.

(d.) Making hats under the supervision of an expert.

(e.) Artistic combining of colors and material.

If a sufficient demand for this class is established it will be followed up by a class in dressmaking after the first of the year.

Can you afford to let this opportunity pass? If you wish to enroll or obtain further details phone Narberth 1638-M.

About Dahlias

About four days after your dahlia plants are turned black by the first killing frost the roots will be ripened. It will then be time to cut off the tops and dig up the tubers.

Use a forked spade of course, and first loosen the ground on all sides, lift off the clumps of soil, and then gently but firmly lift out the clump of tubers. Be careful with the tubers and do not bend the necks any more than necessary. A good clump of tubers with sand necks will give you more "eyes" in the spring and that is what you want.

Allow the roots to stand in the sun to dry for a few hours, not over night, so that the soil will drop off easily and leave the tubers clean. Store the clumps either in open boxes or baskets, or they may be allowed to stand on the cellar floor if there is no danger of their being wet or frozen.

For the first two weeks the clumps should be laid with the stems down, so that the poisonous acid can drain out. After this draining they may be stored horizontally, stem up.

The temperature for storage should be about 40 to 60 degrees.

If too hot the tubers will shrivel or dry up.

If too damp they will sprout too early.

Some growers advocate storage in dry soil, sand, ashes, saw dust or other material, but if stored under proper conditions this will not be found necessary.

The ordinary cellar floor or boxes or baskets set on the floor has been found a safe way to keep dahlia roots. The stems and foliage should be placed in a corner of the garden or on the compost heap to make fertilizer to be dug into the ground next spring.

In the spring your clumps should show from one to six eyes each, about four is a good average, so that you should have about four times as many plants next year as you had this season.

Which reminds us that it pays to buy the better named varieties from a reliable dealer, so that you will be increasing your stock of "good" plants rather than so-called "junk."

Of course, you will want to tag your clumps with the name of the variety, so that you will know what you have to do with next season.

The 1921 catalogs will be out about January or February.

Next bulletin May 1st.

THE RED CROSS CORRECTS A MIS- TAKE.

It has come to the ears of the Directors of the Main Line Branch, No. 1, A. R. C., that there is a rumor in its territory that the dues of the Roll Call are not needed by the local Branch, and that for that reason it will not be necessary to join.
The Chairman of the Branch wishes to make it quite plain that not one penny of Roll Call money goes into the Branch's treasury. Half of it is sent to Headquarters of the Southeastern Pennsylvania Chapter, half of it to National Headquarters at Washington. The President of the United States and the Governors of the States have sent appeals to the people all over the country to hold up the hands of this great Mother of Philanthropy.

The Branch calls on all its members to help the National Roll Call.
MRS. ALEXANDER BROWN,
(Chairman).

ARDMORE Y. M. C. A. NEWS

Noting the benefit that the women of our community are deriving from our "New Idea" millinery and dressmaking courses, the local Y. M. C. A. has made arrangements to open an extension class in Narberth. In the promotion of this class, the Women's Community Club of Narberth is co-operating by helping in every way they can to make this class successful. The first term in this class being formed at Narberth will begin Thursday morning, November 18th, and continue for six weeks, meeting each morning between the hours of 10 and 12. All women of the community are welcome to take up this work. Further details concerning the same can be had by calling either Narberth 1638-M or Ardmore 833-J.
The Ardmore Chamber of Commerce night in our Association Building proved to be an occasion of unusual enjoyment to the business men of Ardmore. After a snappy business meeting the men enjoyed themselves, participating in recreational sports. Four teams resorted to the bowling alleys, two indoor basketball and two volley ball teams lined up in the gym to test the comparative efficiency in these games, while the remainder of our guests enjoyed pocket billiards, checkers and chess, as well as cheering for the athletes contending in the above mentioned sports.
On Saturday night, November 13th, we will have a double-header basketball game on our gymnasium floor. One of our young men's teams will play the Peerless A. C., and another of our team will play the Kisco A. C. These games are scheduled for 8.30.

The Stream of Life

The ladies of the Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Church are making an innovation in Narberth church circles by bringing to the church, for the benefit of the people of Narberth, "The Stream of Life." This is the photoplay which was shown every night for a month at Ocean Grove during the past summer. It was seen by thousands of people. Since then it has been shown in hundreds of churches in many sections of the country. It is the life story of Philip Maynard, a country boy who went to the city to make his fortune. "The Stream of Life" is the "Old Homestead" of the moving picture world.
Pastors of many of the biggest churches of America, after seeing this picture in Des Moines last spring, went home and arranged to have it shown to their people, to increasing crowds night after night. The editor of one of the country's leading moving picture magazines says that "The Stream of Life" is a new note in pictures equally as great as Griffith's "Birth of a Nation." The "Summit Record," of Summit, N. J., says that "never before had its editor witnessed a thing so gripping, so soul stirring, so simple, and yet so fascinatingly guileless."
Narberth has thousands of moving picture lovers who must go elsewhere for such entertainment. The ladies of the Methodist church are to be commended for bringing to our village the opportunity which comes with the showing of "The Stream of Life."

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.
As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not now found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.

For God and Country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes: To uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate one hundred per cent. Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our association in the Great War; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, State and Nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of justice, freedom and democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness.—Preamble to the Constitution of the American Legion.

NEXT DANCE.

The next American Legion Dance will be held on Thursday evening, November 25 (Thanksgiving night) at 8.45, in Elm Hall.

The high-class music that the orchestra has given us assures us of another good turnout.

TWO NEW MEMBERS.

Dr. Daniel E. Stedem, 212 Forrest avenue and C. F. Anterietz, 328 Woodbine avenue, have been enrolled as members of our Post.

We extend a general invitation to all ex-service men in our vicinity to join our Post of the American Legion.

THE SPECIAL MEETING.

A special meeting of the Post was called last Tuesday evening to arrange the plans for the Main Line Armistice Day celebration held in the auditorium of the Lower Merion High School.

NEXT MEETING, NOVEMBER 26.

The regular monthly meeting of the Harold D. Speakman Post, No. 356, will be held on Friday evening, November 26, at 8 o'clock.

All members are requested to make a special effort to be present, as it will be the last night that Commander George O. Smith will preside.

Com. Smith has accepted a position with one of our Southern universities, and we all wish him success in his new work.

ADVERTISEMENTS.

Read the advertisements in your American Legion weekly and help the paper by answering some of the ads.

103,000 VETERANS STILL FOLLOW G. A. R.'S FLAG.

Although a man who was 21 when the Civil War began would today be 80 years old, more than 103,000 veterans of that war are still in line on the march that is leading the Grand Army of the Republic out of time. Figures on the growth and falling away of the membership of the G. A. R. prove that it was more than a quarter of a century after the war ended before the casualties of Father Time began thinning the ranks of those who had kept the nation intact. Up until 1890 the G. A. R. had a steady growth. In 1890 it had 409,000 members. After that its roll call became smaller with each new year.

The membership figures of the G. A. R. for the last forty-two years are as follows:

1878..... 31,016	1900.....276,612

CAP-TIVE.

The Prisoner: "There goes my hat. Shall I run after it?"

The Policeman: "What! Run away and never come back again? You stand here and I'll run after it."—October Boys' Life.

It was Indeed a Very Solemn Affair

of not less than $10.00 and not more than $25.00 may be imposed—

Well, after all this had transpired, the only thing forthcoming was two or three very mild explanations and one or two polite—oh, very polite, inquiries regarding lights and just how they should be arranged on parked cars.

When Things Looked Very Dark. Then it was, indeed, that the situation looked very grave. There wasn't the faintest suggestion of a smile to be seen anywhere.

Squire Fritsch paused. The group of spectators that had crowded around the doorway leading from Council Chamber into the pool and card room of the Fire House, took a deep breath and waited. The few seconds that passed seemed like hours! Finally Squire Fritsch spoke.

"Gentlemen," said he, "I feel certain that not one of you has the least desire or intention to violate this law. But the law is plain, and for the protection of yourselves as well as the owners of other cars and citizens at large, we have no course but to enforce the law. However, what we want more than anything else is your co-operation, and I feel sure that you are all ready and willing to help us. If there is anyone here who takes a different view with respect to this matter, I would like to hear from him."

The Squire paused and waited. The suspense became intense! Not a voice, not a whisper, not a sound of any kind! We were reminded of the silence that reigned in another court room one day when the Judge said: "I want silence, and d— little of that!"

The Quality of Mercy.

There being no voice opposing the Court and the silence being interpreted as a tacit assent on the part of the twenty-four that hereafter they would give our local authorities the very heartiest co-operation in the matter, Squire Fritsch announced that he was entirely satisfied with the state of affairs and that he would not only not impose any fine, but that he would not even impose the usual costs, and forthwith dismissed the twenty-four cases.

Frankly, the Borough officials have no desire to inflict any punishment on any of our citizens, but they are determined to enforce the State law with respect to the proper lighting of parked automobiles within the Borough. The Nevin had given some testimony and Squire Fritsch had read the law—particularly that part which states that for the violation of the statute a fine only purpose of the law is to insure public safety, and rather than take one chance that may result in a serious and fatal accident we believe the citizens of Narberth will bear in mind Squire Fritsch's warning and co-operate fully in observing the regulations fixed by the State law.
